

“Learning specific glazing techniques is exciting as you get to see your work finally complete.”

Printmaking

I have studied several printmaking courses at the Shadwell Centre which has enabled me to develop a way of working that has allowed me to produce prints that I now sell on-line and at local craft markets. The social aspect of the studio space is also hugely important as feedback from fellow printmaker has been very beneficial.

Printmaking Learner Volunteer

For over two years I have been a learner volunteer at the Shadwell Centre.

I very much enjoy my time at the centre as I engage with a diverse range of people, exchange ideas and we encourage each other to develop our artistic practise.

My introduction to the Centre was the starting point of my thinking about how community can benefit from art, and the importance of art within society; this has led me to make a bid to the 'Arts Council' to support my work further hopefully culminating in exhibitions across London.
